

MBA CAREER MANAGEMENT

CONNECT WITH MBA STUDENTS INTERESTED IN RETAIL

Every year, Wharton MBA students pursue careers in retail working in business development, retail strategy, marketing, product management, merchandising, operations, finance, and data analytics. Students are interested in various sectors of the industry, including apparel, footwear, fashion, luxury, beauty, food & beverage, and e-commerce.

Wharton MBAs have been hired for internships and full-time roles at top retailers, including the following:

JAY H. BAKER RETAILING CENTER

As the only Ivy League school with a Retail Center, Wharton's mission is to create thought leadership and top talent in the retail, e-commerce and fashion space. With a top-tier Advisory Board of C-suite executives, Baker provides MBAs with unmatched exposure to retailing in and outside the classroom.

RECRUIT FOR INTERNSHIPS AND FULL-TIME ROLES

Connect with MBA Career Management to schedule/participate in recruiting events like employer information sessions, networking expos, coffee chats, and on-campus interviews, or to post an opportunity on CareerPath – our free online recruiting system/job board.

MEET THE GRADUATE RETAIL CLUB

The Graduate Retail Club invites interested companies to network with their members through retail panels, lunch & learns, and company treks. Treks enable students to visit companies and meet with management, human resources, and/or alumni, and are a great opportunity to share a company's story and network with top-tier talent.
